Hongkone, August 31st, 1385. A SPECIAL committee of the San Francisco board of Supervisors has made a valuable report on the Chinese quarter of San Francisco. The Chinese population of the city is said to be 30,360, that being the lowest possible estimate that can be made. This amounts to about one seventh of the total population of the city. The following statement is given . the number of Chinese women and children. Living, as families, 57 women, 59 children: 761 women and 576 children herded together with apparent indiscriminate parental relations, and no family classification, so far as could be ascertained; 567 professional cast. They have contributed largely to the prostitutes and 87 children living together. The proportion of women to men is therefore remarkably small. Under the head of "The General Aspect of the Locality," the Committee say: -" All great cities have their slums and localities where filth, disease, crime, and misery abound; but in the very best aspect which Chinatown can be made to present, it must stand apart conspicuous and beyond them all in the extreme degree of all these horrible attributes, the rankest outgrowth of human degradation that can be found upon this instant, continent. Here it may truly be said that human beings exist under conditions. (as regards their mode of life and the air they breathe) scarcely one degree above those under which the rate of our water-front and other vermin live, breathe, and have their being. And, this order of things seems inseparable from the very nature of the race, and probably must be accepted and horne with-must be endured, if it cannot be cured-restricted and looked after, so for as possible, with unceasing vigilinee, so that, may be derived from such modification of immoral purposes. It is complained of them that they do not assimilate with the rest of the population, but the fact is that very little chance of assimilation is afforded them. This evident wish and intention to keep the Chinese apart must be held responsible to some extent for the cossion. The service at the cometery was read existing state of things. What can they do under the circumstances but herd volleys were fired. together? A very important part of the Supervisors' report is that relating to taxation, but it is merely summarised in the newspapers. From the summary we learn of the taxes. In the State all real and personal property assessed to Chinese does not exceed $1,500,000. The rate of State tax is sixty-four cents on each $100, and the reon property held by Chinese does not exceed $9,600. The Chinese population, amounting pays less than one four-hundredth part of the revenue required to support the State government. The net cost to the State of keeping 198 Chinese prisoners in the State Prison is not less than $21,600 per annum. a sum $12,000 in excess of the whole amount prosume, although paying only this small pr s'ate in other ways, as, for instance, municipal rates and Customs dues, but living i Communications on Editorial matters should be the crowded and sordid condition they do it is clear that individually they must contribute far less to the general revenue than the white population do. From the evidence given it appeared that the junk was just entering A Kung Nam when the first squall struck lier and heeled her over. Her sail was lowered sharply, but it was too late, and the deceased were thrown into the water, and they were rescued by the launch Kam Sun, which was passing at the time, and by a police beat from Shankiwan Station. The woman and the two children, however, were in the cabin aft when the junk capsized, and when she was righted, they were found dead inside. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.
